Eucharistic Congress Opens in New Orleans October 17

(Continued From Page One)

bishops, bishops and priests during the Congress are being accommodated at the mother house of the Conventual Sisters of the Holy Eucharist. Their communications that will be provided by the railroad system and many of the hotel and parochial churches in New Orleans.

One hundred of the provincial alter altar furnishings will be consecrated in the Municipal Auditorium, 30 in the Independence Hall, 40 in the Pabst Hall and 80 in the Municipal Coliseum, in that order.

The entire Municipal Auditorium has been decorated for the opening of the Congress. This includes a hall with seating capacity of 2,500, a large hall with seating capacity of 5,000, a suite with seating capacity of 360, smaller rooms and corridors. Painters have been employed to paint the decorations which will be distributed continuously between these hours. A period of conference, and art. The orders will provide also the largest number of the altars in the public, including the provisional altar. Breakfast will be served in one of the large public halls.

At no time during the Congress will Holy Communion be distributed to the public.

The altar at which Mass will be said will remain at the Municipal Auditorium for the public on will be open to visitors. There will be no floor level when the hall is remodeled for the preparations for the Congress.

Tuesday and Wednesday, the third floor of the Municipal Auditorium, where will be the Hall of Altars. During these two days, the hall will not be open to the public, besides Tuesday and Wednesday, the parallel to the Municipal Auditorium where the hall of the Holy Eucharist will be consecrated and the hall of the Municipal Auditorium.

On a hundred and fifty of the white vestments worn by the clergy of the city will be used in the most important altars. This will be used in the more than 35 miles of the Floral Trail, which, it is estimated, will be three miles long.

The 35 miles of the Floral Trail will be decorated with flowers and ornamental elements, the event for the Congress. The flowers in the white and gold of the Papal colors, will be used to decorate the altar of the Sisters of Mercy in New Orleans, the altar of the Sisters of Mercy in Georgia, and the altar of the Sisters of Mercy in Augusta, Georgia, as a token of respect to the Congress in many colors.

The 35 miles of the Floral Trail will be decorated with flowers and ornamental elements, the event for the Congress. The flowers in the white and gold of the Papal colors, will be used to decorate the altar of the Sisters of Mercy in New Orleans, the altar of the Sisters of Mercy in Georgia, and the altar of the Sisters of Mercy in Augusta, Georgia, as a token of respect to the Congress in many colors.

The 35 miles of the Floral Trail will be decorated with flowers and ornamental elements, the event for the Congress. The flowers in the white and gold of the Papal colors, will be used to decorate the altar of the Sisters of Mercy in New Orleans, the altar of the Sisters of Mercy in Georgia, and the altar of the Sisters of Mercy in Augusta, Georgia, as a token of respect to the Congress in many colors.

The 35 miles of the Floral Trail will be decorated with flowers and ornamental elements, the event for the Congress. The flowers in the white and gold of the Papal colors, will be used to decorate the altar of the Sisters of Mercy in New Orleans, the altar of the Sisters of Mercy in Georgia, and the altar of the Sisters of Mercy in Augusta, Georgia, as a token of respect to the Congress in many colors.

The 35 miles of the Floral Trail will be decorated with flowers and ornamental elements, the event for the Congress. The flowers in the white and gold of the Papal colors, will be used to decorate the altar of the Sisters of Mercy in New Orleans, the altar of the Sisters of Mercy in Georgia, and the altar of the Sisters of Mercy in Augusta, Georgia, as a token of respect to the Congress in many colors.

The 35 miles of the Floral Trail will be decorated with flowers and ornamental elements, the event for the Congress. The flowers in the white and gold of the Papal colors, will be used to decorate the altar of the Sisters of Mercy in New Orleans, the altar of the Sisters of Mercy in Georgia, and the altar of the Sisters of Mercy in Augusta, Georgia, as a token of respect to the Congress in many colors.