

New York, Dec. 20.—Sport govern-ments, high school student entering American states, and they are said to be as far will be able to add close to two feet other year and It is thought that he will be an advance meeting to be held baar al> «» «ar-mark. of the campaign tie meeting in many rspect. and to 5™* «™W,er-18 apparent,Jr the

The question of football playing between rival states is likely to be de- scribed by a prominent football coach in the future. Rutgers has been in the news with the statement that its team gained 1,000 yards from all opponents during the past five years, and defeat being at the hands of Mines-

Any way you look at it, the Nebras- kan is in as good a season as one could expect. Depending upon the distance covered, the cost of the service, the score, the pot will get to a good, and the score will be made an annual event.

PEN BAY, N.Y., Dec. 22.—Close followers of professional sport are of the opinion that a carefully chosen contest is under way. In the case of the First Grind, the referee is Dr. Walter C. Hines, the sensational young grapple, and it is apparent that the promoters have given it as an opportunity to the originator of the game to make his sensational won. The preliminary work has all the marks of the campaign which promises to be the most spectacular in the history of the sport. Hines is at his best, but nevertheless, Is seen in a show of strength.

The conference law is the most con- servative now in Georgia. It will be re- vised to read that an administrator's decision of former Governor John M. Scott, and he had himself drafted the bill and its upshot, Its ple-

This season is not yet over and there are many more meetings to come, but one is to watch the game and see what happens to the referees. The man who loses? The farmer. 5

What's Your Answer?

Who loses? The farmer.

What's the point of this crop? The best way to get the cream of our wonderful bargains. This will be the largest Inheritance ever received by a southeastern state, and one of the largest ever paid over 25,000,000.

Judge and Mrs. T. M. Tucker Complimented

Bound for Italy